Things Theatrical in the Metropolis, and Bits of General Interest Discussed on the Rialto.

Bianche Walsh in The Woman in The Case, Clyde Fitch's latest play, opened at the Herald Square Monday night, Jan. 30. The play is very interesting throughout, and in the hands of a clever company rises above the melodramatic that a poor or mediocre cast would make it. The play was well received and Mr. Fitch received several curtain calls to which he responded in a neat little speech, in which he said that the play is his last for some time. It is understood that he is going to time. It is understood that he is going to Europe for a rest. The acting of Miss Walsh in the new play is worthy to sustain her reputation, and the applause she received at the opening performance showed that she is appreciated by the New York theatregoing public. preciated by the New York theatregoing public. Miss Dorothy Dorr, who in the same play at one of the east side theatres would be called the heavy woman, plays the part of an adventuress with great finesse. Several others in the company, such as Eleanor Carey, Kathryn Keyes, Helen Ware and Florence St. Leonard play their parts with an exhibition of real talent. The cast includes the following people: Blauche Walsh, Eleanor Carey, Dorothy Dorr, Kathryn Keyes, Helen Ware, Florence St. Leonard, Robert Droquet, George Facett, Foster ard, Robert Droquet, George Facett, Foster Larner, Samuel Edwards, Wm. Wadsworth, Wm. Travers, Chas. Macdonald and W. H. Wright, Travers, Chas. Macdonald and W. H. Wright.

Edward Terry changed his bill to Love in Idleness at the Princess last week. The new play was not so well attended as the ones Mr. Terry has previously put on, obviously from the fact that the daily newspapers criticized it rather severely as dull and uninteresting. The fault is not with any of the players. Mr. Terry's genius is equal to almost any role he might assume, and his supporting company, collectively and individually, most excellent.

Robert Edeson opened at the Hudson Theatre in the new play Strongheart, by William C. DeMille, Monday evening, Jan. 30, and received what inight be called an ovation. The play is essentially American and deals with the problem of race prejudice. Robert Edeson takes the part of a young Indian, educated and cultured in the highest degree, who falls in love with a young woman of an aristocratic family. Mr. Wm. C. DeMille, the author of the play, is also to be congratulated upon his first really great success. The company, while not an exceptional one, is capable as relates particularly to the male contingent. It includes the following people: Macey Harlam, Richard Sterling, Taylor Holmes, Sydney Ainsworth, F. A. Turner, Francis Bonn, Henry Kolker, Herbert Corthell, Robert Edeson, Jane Rivers, Louise Compton, Jeane Maderia, Majorie Wood, Percita West, Edmund Breese, Madison Smith, B. F. Small, Jr., Clay Boyd and Lawrence Sheehan.

Music Row is the scene of activity Music Row is the scene of activity these days; carpenters, painters and others being busily engaged remodeling offices and preparing for the extension of some concerns and the establishment of new films, Mr. Howley will be installed in his fine rooms at 41 W. Twenty-eighth street. With the catalogue of the old Howley-Dresser Co., which he has purchased, Mr. Howley should immediately take a prominent place among the music publishers. Down at 51, Paul Dresser has found his present quarters inadequate to handle the enormous quarters inadequate to handle the enormous business which has begun to pour in with the introduction of the new songs, Mary Mine, Jim Judson, and others on the market, and has secured the entire second floor of the building. By the time this reaches our readers the Paul Dresser Pub. Co. will possess as handsome offices and professional parlors as any of the older firms in the street.

Mr. M. H. Mr. Meyers will again put out the first named play, and will also have a musical comedy, Johnny on The Spot, which gives promise of becoming very popular.

George Edwardes' original London Company has made a very marked success in Henry Hamilton and Ivan Caryll's romantic opera The Duchess of Dantzic at Daly's Thea-tre. The piece, which is founded on the historic story of Mme. San Gene and Napoleon, opera The Duchess of Dantzic at Daly's Theatre. This piece, which is founded on the historic story of Mme. San Gene and Napoleon, inight perhaps be properly called a music drama, dramatic interest dominating it much more strongly than any musical production ever before presented in this country. Mr. Edwardes' company is an unusually competent one. A noted American manager who saw the premiere at Daly's remarked, that such a cast so talented and well suited to every part could not be made up in this country. Two members of the company were highly commended by the New York critics, Miss Evic Greene as the Duchess and Mr. Holbrook Blinn as Napoleon. Miss Greene is a beautiful woman, equipped with a splendid cultivated soprano voice of wide range, genuine dramatic ability and a rare conception of comedy. She captivated her audience from his first appearance. Miss Greene made her stage debut as a dancer at the age of fourteen years, and at seventeen was a provincial star in England. Five years ago she made her first appearance in London in the romantic opera L'Amour Mouille, in which she played the boy's role. Her next part in London was Dolores, in the original production of Florodora. It is not generally known that this piece was written for her. After the success of Florodora she entered into a contract with Mr. George Edwardes and has since played under his management in the title role of Kitty Grey, Nan in The Country Girl, with a Devonshire dialect that caught the fancy of London, and in the Duchess of Dantzle. When she was selected for the latter role it was thought it would overweight her because of her youth. London has given her credit for a very sweet and powerful singing voice, but not for the dramatic ability she possessed. The result was a great surprise and a wonderful success in support of Mr. Edwardes' judgment, Mr. Bilnn is a San Franciscan, who was rather caustically commented on by New York critics when he was last seen about six years are in the played the played to the played to the played to t ment. Mr. Blinn is a Sau Franciscan, who was rather caustically commented on by New York critics when he was last seen about six years ago in 1b and Little Christina. He is a success as Napoleon, and his impersonation of the Corsican is praised by every critic of the Duchess of Dantzic. In personality he is the ideal of this character, and presents in his make-up the truest stage counterfelt present ment of an historic personage one can possibly imagine. Mr. Blinn has evidently given deep study to this part, for he shows in its interpretation all the mannerisms in walk, gesture and speech referred to by historical commentators on the career of Napoleon.

George Peck was a pleasant caller at this office last week. Mr. Peck has been suffering for some time with rheumatism, though not in a degree that greatly incapacitated him for work.

MISS MABEL MONTGOMERY

Success has crowned the efforts of Miss Montgomery in her chosen life work. Today she is the leading woman in the Players' Stock Company, one of the best and most progressive organizations of its kind in the country. Miss Montgomery began her stage career under the personal direction of Mr. A. M. Palmer and the noted stage director, Richard Barker. So favorable was her work in a series of plays in which she appeared that she was engaged to play the part of Miss Pilkington, with James Powers, at a Broadway theatre. She next appeared in A Trip to Chinatown, being fes tured as the widow. The following season ashe was engaged as leading woman with the Proc tor Stock Company at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York City, where she was a great favor ite, and it was with regret that the patrons and players heard of her departure for Keith's Philadelphia theatre, where she remained until her engagement in Chicago with the Players' Stock Company. Miss Montgomery's charming voice and pleasing manner has won for her the esteem and well wishes of all who know her.

It was rumored that Clark Ball organized a relief expedition to dig through the snow drifts and rescue the missing showmen, but on second consideration this plan was abandoned in view of the fact that if Mr. McCarthy felt the weather too severely he could put his show on and keep warm.

'Tis an old saying that "there is nothing new under the sun;" but once in a while something comes up that goes to show that the old proverb is wrong. To prove it, a new circus light has appeared on the market this year that bids fair to revolutionize the very important item of tent lighting. For years the tent shows have struggled with all sorts of devices for lighting their tents and grounds, but until recently nothing satisfactory has been found. At last a new system has been invented which has been halled by the big shows and eagerly adopted. The system is composed of a generator and tank in a compact box that sets at the base of the pole, which, by the clever use of gasoline and air, produces a vapor which is conveyed to the chandelier, carrying 'Tis an old saying that "there is which is conveyed to the chandelier, carrying from two to twelve gas mantles. The light produced is like the most brilliant sunshine, which penetrates to every spot covered by the tent. The system is so constructed that the gas can be turned on or off at will. The value of the new system is not entirely in the light but in the saving of gasoline, which each season will more than pay for the whole system. Ex-haustive tests have shown that it does not use haustive tests have shown that it does not use one-tenth the amount of gasoline that the ordinary circus light now does; again, the system is so compact that it does not take more than one-third the space to transport that the present style of light does, while the weight is at least seventy per cent. less. Almost all of the big shows have adopted the system for the coming season. It is being manufactured by Bolte & Weyer of this city.

Dorothy Russell is again proving that history repeats itself, and her appearance in the Kohl & Castle houses is appealing strongly to many people in Chicago who remember the early days of Lillian Russell, where her father, Charles Leonard lived for so many years. As Lillian first knocked at the door of a vaudeville theatre—Tony Pastor's famous house in Tammany Hall—and then ran away to be married, so this pretty replica of a house in Tammany Hall—and then ran away to be married, so this pretty replica of a famous mother took the reins into her own hands. Only she ran away to marry young Eekstein first, and then made her plunge as a vaudeville star, profiting, of course, by her relationship to the comic opera star. This dainty young lady no longer needs the use of her mother's name; she is succeeding on her own account. She wins the hearts of her audiences by her charming manners, dainty songs and grace. There was a story in one of the papers the other day to the effect that a well known actor, angered at the constant and exasperatingly audible chatter of a party in a box, which chatter was also resented by the audience. "stopped short in the middle of a strong dramatic scene and walked over to within a few feet of the box, stood glaring at the six occupants." The immediate results were a storm of applause and the hurried departure from the theatre of the offending party. This really would seem to be a good remedy for an evil that unfortunately is too common. But it depends in a way upon the ability of the actor to glare. There is an occasional box party that the malignant and ordinary terror inspiring menace of a Forrest would hardly disturb.

The question of who will succeed Mr. Florenz Zlegfeld as business partner of Joe. MAMA'S PAPA PRODUCED.

Joseph Hart and Carrie DeMar, in the principal roles of Mama's Papa under the management of William A. Brady, were enthusiastically received at Salem, N. J., Feb. 1, by a well filled house. Mama's Papa is one of those rollicking varieties of musical comedy which sets things to going. The parts were well played and success is predicted for the piece. Both Mr. Hart and Miss DeMar scored personal hits. Mama's Papa was adapted by Mr. Hart from the German. The music has been supplied by A. B. Sloane. The story is that of a young newspaper man, Harry Blossom, who is desperately in love with the daughter of a general of the U. S. Army. She lives in her father's beautiful mansion on the upper Hudson. The general is about to leave for Manila on special duty. He is exceedingly anxious to see his daughter married before he leaves, but will not consent to her engagement with Harry Blossom until his mother's sanction to the union is received. The bridegroom's sister, Daisy, goes to find Mrs. Blossom, but her search is all in vain. The bridegroom becomes distracted; likewise the bride. The general excitement is intensified by the sudden illness of the pet terrier of the bride-to-be, and the housekeeper is dispatched for a veterinary surgeon. She becomes so excited that she forgets the surgeon's address, but she meets a man on the way of whom she inquires concerning the physician. The man informs her that he is none other than Dr. Mendum Foote, for whom she is seeking. She pilots him back to the general's home, where he makes himself so obnoxious that he is regarded as an impertinent intruder, and finlly is thrown into the river. In order to keep from taking cold Dr. Foote drinks such a large quantity of intoxicants that he becomes more tiresome and obnoxious than ever. Mrs. Blossom at last arrives and announces that under belief that her first husband, a sea captain. was dead she had married a second time—the second husband, to the surprise of all, being Dr. Mendum Foote. In the amusement world today it would be difficult to find a man who more nearly typifies the success to be attained by conscientiously catering to the public taste than does Mr. B. F. room exhibits to a stage performance, Mr. Keith began at once to purge the performances of all objectionable matter, and soon had the reputation of giving a clean and wholesome entertainment, if not a pretentious one. Success came from the start of the continuous, although the room which had been dignified by the name "theatre" had been enlarged again and again to make room for the hoped for growing attendance. It was in this place that he in-augurated the "continuous." Twelve years after his humble invasion of Boston, Mr. Keith opened the Galety Theatre in Providence. In each of these he established his vaudeville performances with the assistance of his competent general manager, Mr. E. F. Albee. The acts were more elaborate and retained the Keith quality of cleanliness. Business boomed continuously and Mr. Keith soon began to reach farther. Year after year he acquired new theatres in the cities of the east, until now his circuit of vaudeville houses is unquestionably the most magnificent in the world, including as it does his million dollar theatres in Boston and Philadelphia, and his other houses in New York, Pittsburg, Buffalo, Cleveland, and London with booking affiliations from Fortland, Maine, to Chicago, both north and south and in the middle states. He came of rugged New England stock and his carly days were spent upon a Massachusetts farm. The theatrical bacilli was not inherited and did not manifest itself until past the age of thirty. His first visit to any show was made at the age of fifteen when he drove fifteen miles to a circus, but he never saw the inside of a theatre until after he was twenty-one, and only on rare occasions until embarking in the business personally. His first ventures were with small traveling room exhibits, consisting of animals and inanimate curiosities, glass blowers, illusions, etc. Although each trip was financially disastrous for a number of years, compelling his return to smaller ventures each time in order to replete his exchequer, Mr. Keith never lost heart. The fall of 1882 found him in Boston with a small capital and lots of ambition. In January 1883 Mr. Keith started his fourth room show in company with a partner with whom he continued but two weeks. Two weeks later Mr. Keith started again with another partner, who remained with him for thirteen months, and he then went alone until his funds were exhasuted and he was obliged to call in a third partner to secure a capital of $2,500. The two preceding partners had only contributed to the business equally with Mr. Keith. After appearance of the third partner, business dragged until the advent of the continuous performance of July 6, 1885, since which time it has never seen a poor day. Mr. J. A. Darnaby writes as follows: "I beg that you correct through your valuable columns the impression formed by some of the managers with whom I held time for Miss Mary Atheling. Several managers have written stating that it was the impression I had canceled their houses under a misrepresentation and was filling time elsewhere with Miss Atheling; and, while this was my privilege, I wish to state that it is not a fact, Miss Atheling signed a five years' contract with me just previous to the Iroquois fire, which necessitated our canceling much of our time and made it unadvisable to open in the face of such sentiment and the compulsory closing of many out of town houses. During the summer season I agreed to the arrangement now existing with Mr. Holden, which saved the lady from censure in signing two contracts while one existed for the same period. I was again compelled to cancel her time which led many to believe the services of Miss Atheling were not at my disposal. I wish to state a contract now exists, and that Miss Atheling will appear next season under my management, providing a play is secured. Miss Atheling has from the beginning been anxious to open under my management, and my canceling was what I believed the best for all concerned, hence my past record with those managers familiar with me and my manner of doing business should suffice. I wish to state that I am in no way interested in Mr. Holden's excellent production in which Miss Atheling is appearing, and have nothing whatever to do with the bookings."

At the Orpheum Theatre, Kansas City, during the week of Jan. 15. Hubert Deveau was given an agreeable surprise by the leader of the orchestra. Prof. Lange, who, on Fluirsday evening spring a beautiful new composition without warning to Deveau, on his encore picture. The Snow-Storm, Deveau nearly jumped over his big easel with delight. There was everything in the melody to inspire him in hurling the colors on. In a moment everyholdy on the stage had gathered in the wings to watch Deveau's amazing new energy. The music told everything as the artist developed it. There was the approaching storm; the whizzing of the wind; the blinding snow; the farmiouse burled under it; even the fir-trees seemed to rock in the storm. Then came the subsiding into calm. At this point the theatre was darkened for the moonlight effect; the furtile herse and cutter drove across the snow. The result was a tremendous hit, and Hubert beveau is elated over his new acquisition.

On Feb. 6 patrons of the Amphion Theatre, Brooklyn, witnessed the first appearance of the farmous Horvath Troupe of Midgets on the vandeville stage. For two years these first lite people have been one of the greatest drawing cards of the Barnum & Balley Show, and have been declared by those in a position to know, that their equals for size, attractiveness and intelligence have never been seen by the American public. They are under the management of Herr Sigmund Horvath with the fore coming to this country, was the leading figure in the amusement world of Hungary, and who has for years devoted his life to the production and promotion of high-class amusement ventures. The act, hesides being exceedingly attractive in irself, adds novelty and interest owing to the diminutive size of the performers. Mademoiselle Rosa Horvath is the prima doma of the troupe and sings a number of popular songs in Hungarian, German and English, appearing in suitable costume. Little Anna, the smallest dauseuse ever appearing on any stage, presents the typical dances of various nations, while Paul and Frantz display their athletic prowess in a miniature wrestling and hoxing match, referred by Master Erust. It is very probable that several important changes will be made in the company playing Weber Music Hall, New York, now that Mr. Zlegfeld has retired as co-manager with Mr. Weber and Miss Held closes with the company after her two weeks' notice is up.

The Black Crook, the show wherein Lyda Thompson and her British blondes set New York after in the early '70's, is to be revived. Billosse Kiralfy will stage it. Lydia is in New York now, but she doesn't threaten to appear in the revival. She is content to rest on her laurels.

to appear in the revival. She is content to rest on her laurels.

In all the history of burlesque at Weber Music Hall, New York City, no such striking contrast has been presented in one performance as the two characters now portraved by Marie Dressler in the two pieces which comprise the offering of Joe Weber's All-Star Stock Company. In Higgledy-Piggledy she plays I'bilopens Schmitz, the pampered thirty-year old daughter of a Milwankee Mustard King. In the College Widow, the best and brightest of all the many burlesque hits Mr. Weber has produced, she is Tilly Buttin, a half-back, the daughter of Mrs. Hiram Buttin, the bash queen, a poor unculcated neglected girl of seventeen who is so basiful she can hardly walk. And each portrayal is a work of art.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Donagan's Plantation Company reports big business on the road. The roster is as follows: Wallie Mack, manager: Prof. Henderson, musical director; Wm. F. Donagan, Geo, Brown, Billie Wilson, Will Carrington, Tom Drake, Joe Henderson, Jas. PeCosta, Edith Logan, Martha Barnet, Lens Wilson and Katie Johnson Donagan.

Right now should be the busiest time of the outdoor amusement manager. He is just getting ready in earnest for the season's work and a right good start will when he closes his books.

The park manager that hasn't his plans laid for the coming season hasn't been very industrious. He should know the latest amusement devices and those that will bring in the money this season. If he expects to be enrolled among the successful he will waste no time in contracting for them.

The fair manager will be surprised how much quicker and better business is done in the early season than later when every fair follower is busy and hasn't got time to answer his letters.

Pitiful is the plight of the park manager who waits until he opens his park and then finds that all the good vaudeville enter-tainers are booked for that week and he is forced to open his park with a bill that fairly drives the patrons home with the declaration that their park visiting is over.

Now's the time the press agent should be getting busy. However, the ad man should be getting in some good work. Those concessions have got to be sold to responsible persons and those attractions must be secured or it will be too late.

The fair manager that wants to make a success of this year's work should insist upon the directors selecting the dates early. With the dates known the manager has something to work upon. Then, too, it lets the public know that a fair is to be held, and that means

The live manager, like the early bird, will secure his attractions early lest some one else who holds a fair at the same time books the attractions and forces him to accept the cheaper and less desirable ones.

JAMESTOWN MAY HOLD TERCEN-TENARY.

A plan is in progress to hold in 1907 in Jamestown, Va., a celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of the landing of Capt. Newport's ploneers near what is Newport News and the founding of Jamestown in 1607. The plans for the celebration are by no means complete, but Gen, Fitzhugh Lee is working hard to bring matters to a head. No period in American romance is richer in dramatic tragedy than around the time when Jamestown, which remained the capital of the Old Dominion for half a century, was founded. The celebration, it is stated, will not be held at the site of the ancient city of Jamestown, which is thirty-two miles from the mouth of the river, but across the bay from Fort Monroe at the point where Capt. Newport landed. It will be a celebration upon land and water, naval maneuvers taking an important part in the celebration.

Editor Truth: In justice to management of the Taibott-Whitney Street Fair Company that is now in our God blessed city, I wish to say to the public and my christian friends, that I have never attended any cleaner or more afficing exhibitions of God's wonderful power through man than was presented today, and is every day except Sunday in their different departments. I must say that anyone that would object to any of their friends or family witnessing the shows would in my opinion commit a sin that the God of all Gods will punish them for; and I will also say that if some poor person should have to steal the price to go, I would pray God to forgive them for it.

Yours in Jesus.

Notes from the Ferari Brothers Show: The Zoo in Toledo is doing big business. Every Sunday the attendance runs from 1,500 to 6,000 admissions. The program that the Ferari Brothers are putting on is a bigone. For the week of Jan. 29 they had M Samayon, the great Central American athlete Hayden & Lalonde, a very clever duo of trapezperformers and revolving ladder experts; The Evone Brothers, comedy acrobats and unicy clists; The Bonavitas, comedy acrobats; The Clown and the Newsboy; Sangere, Hebrew monologue comedian and vocalist; Clark & Jarvis, clowns from the Walter L. Main's show; Princess Pauline, the animal queen; Prof. James Briggs, animal trainer; Captain El Prazo, wild animal subjugator, and the cinematograph. The Ferari Brothers have made a contract with the Miles Brothers of New York, agents of the Biograph and Mutoscope Co., for a completeset of films each week, shipped direct from New York to Toledo. They put on each week no less than fifteen hundred feet. In addition to the above program, the ladies and children are allowed to ride the camels Bedella and loly Moses, late of the Mysterious Asia Show on the World's Fair Pike, St. Louis, and the children are allowed to ride the ponies, free. The interesting sight of the feeding of the wild animals is also shown to the public at the close of each performance, afternoon and evening. The Zoo is leading all places of aunisement in attendance, and it certainly can be verified by the reading of the above bill that this is the greatest show ever put on in America for the price of 10 cents, as the trained wild animal show alone is worth that money. The people in Toledo have not been alow in appreciating such a big production, as they are furning out by the thonsands every day as the weather permits. Toledo has proven to be a big revelation; a surprise to the Ferari Brothers and everyone else. The Ferari Brothers Shows will not go on the road until the latter part of May, and the Zoo will remain open and running in full blast until the middle of May. The program is changed each week, commencing Sunday at 2:30 matinee. For week beginning Feb. 5 the new vaudeville and circus acts are Steiner Brothers, comedy horizontal bar artists; Mile. LaTow, the slack wire queen; Mile. Rouclere, the queen of the Roman rings; Diko, novelty acrobatic athlete; Al. Singer, baritone vocalist, and the Juno Brothers, equilibrists and hand to hand balancing acrobats. In addition to these new arrivals there will be new animal acts. FAIRYLAND FOR BALTIMORE.

The Knickerbocker Theatrical Co. of New York has leased a tract of land covering about ten acres in Baltimore, Md., which they will convert into an amusement resort similar to Luna Park, and will be within the city limits and quite accessible to car lines. The company back of the enterprise is building similar resorts in other cities, and is well equipped to give the pleasure-loving patrons the best in the line of summer amusements. The new park is to be called Fairyland. The park will be lighted with myriads of electric lights and will be a fairyland of beauty. The amusements will be of the latest design and fashioned after those at Coney Island. Work on the grounds will commence at once as the resort will open May 28. The enterprise will entail a cost of about $200,000. The Knickerbocker Theatrical Co.

PARK NOTES.

Application for a permit to erect an additional ocean pier at Ocean Park, near Los Angeles, has been made to the trustees.

Higgins Park at Dixon, Ill., has been reclosed with a new high board fence, the grand stand has been rebuilt and everything out in first-class order.

A new summer theatre will be erect-d at Crump's Park, Macon, Ga., before the bark opens for the season. When completed the house will seat 1.500 people.

It is not altogether improbable that Loraine. Ohio, will have a new park the coming summer. The Street Railway Co. is considering the matter of erecting an amusement resort at the end of one of its car lines.

Operations have begun for the building of Dreamland Park at Albany, N. Y., by the management of the Albany Amusement Co. The resort will cover an area of 300,000 square feet of ground. The place will be completed in May.

Contracts are being let for the reconstruction of a large annusement park in the ast end of Cleveland, Ohlo, to be known as to the park by the same name now being constructed in Chicago, and to Dreamland, New

It is probable that White City, Chiago, will put on a spectacle of elaborate proportions this summer as Billosse Kiralfy, the well-known impresario, is in that city and, according to rumor, is negotiating with General Manager Paul D. Howse to that end. It is also said that Mr. Kiralfy is negotiating with the Portland, Ore, Exposition Company to put on a spectacular production next summer.

H. Roltair, of Roltair's Creation, one off the few successful attractions on the Pike, has closed negotiations to put on his production at Dreamland, Coney Island, New York, it is rumored that E. W. McConnell, who had many interests on the Pike, will be associated with Mr. Roltair in this venture. Creation at Dreamland will be produced on even a more elaborate scale than at the World's Fair at St. Louis, and efforts will be made to have the production ready for the summer season 1905.

Thompson & Dundy are making to finish the big building and open February 25, will be interested to know that those plucky gentlemen still declare they will open on time. They pulled off the opening of the Colonial Music Hall with great success February 4.

Life and the vetriolic Metcalfe still continue to reap big crops of advertising out of their altercation with the New York Manager's Association.

The show-printers and the billposters will have to get together next July and appoint a joint censorship committee. Loud burlesque paper will have to be toned down and lurid melodramatic posters depicting scenes of great violence will have to go. This is simply a business proposition. If the billposters and poster printers beat the authorities to it they can keep the matter in their own hands and attend to it in their own way. It is comingcoming sure.

A measure which will cause no little disturbance in theatrical circles in the Empire state, even if it does not ultimately pass, was introduced in the legislature at Albany, Feb. 3, by Assemblyman Wagner of the 30th Manhattan district. To quote our correspondent:

The bill seems to be aimed either at the proprietors of theatres personally or else at benefiting the public, by making it a misdemeannor to sell theatre tickets in a number of ways in which they are now sold. The bill is, of course, drastic. It makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not exceeding $500 or six months' imprisonment, or both, for "a person occupying, owning or controlling a building, room, park inclosure or other place, which is open to the public at stated periods or otherwise, who asks, demands or secures from any person for admission thereto a price in excess of that demanded or received from other persons for the same privileges or in excess of the advertised rates therefor, or discriminates against any person or class of persons in the price for admission thereto."

The same penalty is fixed for any person who

"establishes an agency, sub-office or other place at which tickets of admission are sold at a greater price than at the box office or other general office or place at which tickets are sold, in excess of the advertised prices therefor, or directly or indirectly, by extending privileges in the selection of seats, sharing in the proceeds of the sale of seats, accepting the return of unsold seats, or in any manner aids, abets or connives or participates in the sale or resule of tickets by any person or at any place, for a price in excess of the regular price at which such a ticket or tickets of the same class are sold, or in excess of the advertised rate therefor."

sold, or in excess of the advertised rate therefor."
Finally the net is drawn tightly by the following application of the penalty to any person "who refuses to sell on demand a ticket for an unsold seat at the regular advertised rate, unless the seat has, in good faith, been reserved for an intending purchaser at the regular advertised rate."

The ticket speculators (and by the way they still keep on arresting them in New York) will find their increasing difficulties multiplied by this new measure. It is doubtful if speculating will ever be entirely done away with. The railroad ticket scalper still survives in spite of all the restrictions that hem him round about. But there is not very much money in the business now and it languishes. That will be the end of the sidewalk speculator in theatrical tickets. It may be afar off, but it is bound to come.

SAYS IT IS CRIMINAL CONSPIRACY

At the instance of Mr. James S. Metcalfe, dramatic critic who has been denied admittance to several New York theatres, District Attorney Jerome will examine several members of the Association of Theatrical Managers to inquire, in a preliminary way, as to whether there has been criminal conspiracy on the part of the managers in denying admittance to the critic. Mr. Metcalfe believes that he has discovered a penal statute which he thinks exactly fits the case. This statute makes it unlawful for a person to prevent another from exercising a lawful trade or calling, or doing any other lawful act, by force, threats or intimidation. The statute makes it a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonmisdemeanor, punishable by imprison-ment for one year, a fine of $500, or

AN EDITOR'S VIEW.

The following is an editorial clipped com the El Paso (Tex.) Evening

The following is an editorial clipped from the El Paso (Tex.) Evening News, of Jan 28:

A form flashing in midair, turning carelessly on the swinging rings, leaping through space with a laugh, swinging safely on the elusive circles with a smile, the personification of health, strength and manhood; taking his life in his hands to satisfy the hungry maw of the insatiate public, staking his body on a thin bar as he spins dizzily around—alive with the very joy of his strength and power—that was Alfred Jeffries two months ago. Always a smile for his wearied comrades, always a soft word.

Today a little group of men and women gathered sadly at the bier where lies the thin and emaclated body whose flight was wont to bring shudders and hoarse exultant cries from the people below. Alfred Jeffries, aerialist, who knew neither fear nor danger.

with a defant smile turns away with a tear in his eye.

Alfred Jeffries, Roman ring performer with the Nat. Reiss Carnival Company, who died at Hotel Dieu here from an attack of pneumonia contracted during the recent tour in Mexico, was buried from Carr's undertaking parlors this afternoon. Several members of the company attended the funeral. Mr. Jeffries was well known on the road and every care was given him by Mr. Reiss. The body will be shipped east.

That's the way the reporters put it, and that's the way the world read it—and forget it. And the confett is trewn, gaily thronging, laughing crowd will go on the same and applaud the daring man who treads on a thread in midaid, and the woman who, swathed in flames, plunges from on high and the man that loops the loop—all smilling a brave face while the public looks on.

But—Poor Jeff. The ending of a wanderer's existence: danger his livelihood, success his life blood—far away from home and friends, in the midst of a palated fairyland—dead on the road.

And his comrades soothing his last hours, the midst of a palated fairyland—dead on the road.

And his comrades soothing his last hours, watching with a brother's tenderness his dying gasps—these nomads of public amusement with dimmed eyes and tightened lips look on all that remains of Alfred Jeffries, aerialist.

These men that laugh and joke are a tender hearted race. The love of change runs in their velns—the desire for the maelstrom of the crowd—but when one of their number falls, from the owner down to the stake driver, comes a hush and strident tones are softened.

"Poor old Jeff," says a choking voice, "Poor old Jeff," says a sob. And then the crowd comes with their demand, with their eagerness for danger; and the softened voice "spiels" harshly and the man brushed his hand across his face and dances lightly up the wire—and the crowd applauds.

But one act is missed. The void is smoothed over; the spieler has an unspoken cry and the next act comes on. Died on the road.

HISTORICAL HOUSE DOOMED.

It is said that the historic house where, according to tradition, Juliet resided when she was wooed by Romeo, is in danger of collapse. The walls are cracked and it is feared that the structure is doomed, although work-men are endeavoring to save the same. The house is situated in Verona, Italy.

VAUDEVILLE HOUSES IN THE WEST.

A Western Amusement Manager Writes of Them for The Billboard.

A Western Amusement Manager Writes of Them for The Billboard.

The steady growth and spread of the cheaper vandeville houses from the extreme west to the middle eastern states is noted by western managers of these theatres. The inception of the ten cent vaudeville theatre was fostered at San Francisco, and the instant success with which they met was no doubt a complete surprise to the originators. Grauman, of San Francisco, is credited with the first cheap theatre. Engaing a vacant store in the heart of the shopping district he fitted up a parlor theatre with a moving picture machine as the principal feature. He gave four acts to round out the program. On week days he gave an afternoon and night performance. On Sundays it was a series of performances, each lasting some twenty minutes, and giving as high as twenty shows during the day. With Grauman's success other houses in various portions of their surprise of the surprise of the city sprung up like musbrooms, until at present there must be from ten to a dozen of these places in San Francisco. Opposition naturally caused the adding of more acts until at present. from the giving of four numbers and the picture machine, the managers are giving as high as ten acts. A complete circuit of a chain of vaudeville theatres now extend from the Missouri river to the Pacific ocean.

The inception of this class of entertainment was a great boon to the unknown vaudeville actor, and thousands were given work steadily where before they had a hard struggle of it to get any sort of consecutive time. From San Francisco the vaudeville house was soon duplicated in the smaller interior towns, until now nearly every town of any size west of the river has a theatre devoted to vaudeville.

In San Francisco recently, several of these houses were closed by order of the Fire Commissioners, as the flimsily built and hastily constructed places of amusement were a menace to the patrons. In many of the interior towns little theatres were built and made to conform to the stringent fire regulat though the price of admission is low the public do not take that into consideration but demand acts of some merit.

Western managers do not believe the venture will meet with much success in the east. The repertoire companies playing to ten, twenty and thirty cents present plays fairly well acted, and in the intermissions give several vaudeville numbers, so buyers of bargains in the amusement line can see both play and vaudeville interpretations for the one admission. The average manager of these western vaudeville theatres is not burdened with over-intelligence, a sharp conscience or a sense of too much business honor, so the better class of vaudevillains who thought they would make up by long consecutive engagements are limited to four weeks work and several weeks layoff.

These actors will make the trial but once, will jump east at the very first opportunity and it will be long before they will cheapen their acts again. Acts of a circus nature do not enhance their value by playing these houses for, by appearing in all the towns both large and small from Chicago to Frisco and from St. Paul to San Diego, they have but little value to the circus manager who contemplates an extended tour of the west. The better class of performers are quick to appreciate this, and the ten cent vandeville manager is finding it harder and harder to get acts that have merit enough to please their patrons.

Over the line of the Northern Pacific R. Ran amusing condition has resulted on account of the present success of the cheap theatre. Managers of combination houses playing touring companies have resented the inroses upon their patronage by the ten cent vandeville house, and are retadiating by canceling the assistance and turning their swell theatres into a house devoted to the cheaper form of entertainment. They hope to surfeit their public with acts that are bound to be disappearing and so disgust amusement patrons that they will gladly turn to the high-class towns.

who will conduct the business under the old title.

Mr. J. W. Gentry wishes to announce through these columns that he has retired from the show business. He has not decided on any definite plans for the future, and is at present taking a much deserved rest at his beautiful country home at Bloomington, Ind.

FRED SARGENT TENDERED RE-CEPTION.

An informal dinner was tendered Mr. Fred P. Sargent, late of the Hagenbeck Shows, in St. Louis last week, at which was gathered some two dozen of his friends. Toasts were many and bright. One by Dan Fishell, now with the Royal Chef Co., but better known through his connection with Barnum & Bailey's press staff, was most applauded. In his remarks he stated that he could offer no better endorsement of his friend's worth than a part of a letter which he had read in The Billboard, and which had been written by the management of the Hagenbeck Show. The event was a most pleasant one and an instance that tends to coment more closely the bonds of good fellowship.

MULHALL WILL APPEAL CASE.

Zack Mulhall, western ranchman and formerly interested in Cummings Wild West on the Pike, has been tried in St. Louis for assault upon Ernest Morgan, and found guilty of assault without malice. The jury gave him three years. His case was immediately appealed and he is confident of complete vindication. It will be remembered that Mr. Morgan was shot and seriously wounded in a discussion between Mulhall and two employes of the Cummings Wild West on the 18th of last June. It is held by the state that a chance ball from Mulhall's revolver struck Morgan. He has given bond in the sum of $2,500.

If The Billboard has been correctly informed, Harry Lockhart, the famous animal trainer, succumbed to an attack of pneumonia and passed away in the City of Mexico, Tuesday, Jan. 31, where he has been exhibiting a herd of performing elephants with the Orrin Brothers' Circus.

WORDS, WORDS, WORDS.

This has been a strenuous week. John Moore, the "globe trotting poster salesman," was in town and there were "dutch lunches" and "plain lunches" and "wine dinners" and sundry decoctions of "Scotch and 'Polly" to be taken care of until everything of a serious nature had to be relegated to a back seat till the last minute, when there was a grand rush to get the stuff in shape before the last form closed. And, yes; we almost forgot to mention that we had the exceedingly laborious task of translating the latest contribution of that Eminent and Able Apologist of the Board of Directors, punishable in the "Official Organ" for February. Fortunately we were successful in securing the services of several lexicographers who succeeded in analyzing the more abstruse passages. After due consideration these specialists in words of six sylables told us that it was simply a case of "words, words, words."

We will not attempt to conceal the fact that we were greatly disappointed when we got the lexicographers' re-port, as we had hoped the Able Apoloport, as we had hoped the Able Apolo-gist would have some plausible ex-planation for the unaccountable acts of the three men to whom he is re-sponsible and who have, to a certain extent, placed their reputations in his keeping. But all he gave his expec-tant readers was "hot air."

"When the Devil was sick the Devil a saint would be," but beneath the monks hood and gown of pretended loyalty to the Association will still be found the horns, the cloven hoof and barbed tail of His Satantic Majesty, who accords loyalty to no man or principle, and is essentially an opportunist and a time-server. Therefore, in the face of the undenied circumstances, the attempt of the Able Apologist to throw sand in the eyes of his readers is an admission of guilt, and all the "billingsgate, blackguardism and downright falsehood" that he has injected into his lame apology will not be sufficient to take the thoughts of his readers away from the main question, the "Secondary Franchise."

It should not be forgotten that this It should not be forgotten that this is a question which has nothing to do with the peculiarities of individuals. It is a question of principle—the most important principle of the Associated Billposters and Distributors, which has been assailed by men high in the councils of the organization. It should be plain that such acts can not be justified by calling names. The responsibility for that act of treason to the Association and its members lies not with The Billboard, or its editor, who was sufficiently alert to discover and expose the plot, but with the men who conceived it. The attempt of the "official organ" to discredit the facts already published and to shield the offenders on the plea of "loyalty" is, in reality, an act of disloyalty to the Association which makes its existence possible, and proves it nothing more than the truckling mouthpiece of the dominent faction in the Board.

Attempt is made to have it appear that Mr. Pratt was responsible for the concealment of the report of the New York Situation Committee. This may be true, and if it is it is the only act in connection with the whole matter that is in the least discreditable to Mr. Pratt. It is more than likely that the shock he received when the sum of iniquity was made plain to him, led him to desire to conceal the low treachery of the men who are his partners in business. Mr. Pratt was not responsible for the motion to postpone the entire matter, but was prepared to try it to a finish. Had the proposition ever gone to a vote at that meeting it would have been finished, because the Board of Directors is composed for the most part of honorable, intelligent business men. The Billboard doubts if there could be found among its twenty-three odd members three men, other than those appointed to the New Yerk Business. Attempt is made to have it appear

By all means let the report of the New York Situation Committee be orinted. If the "official organ" does not do so "at the proper time" The Billboard will. Then it will be seen that all we have said on the subject is true: that the committee did attempt to force the firm of A .Van-Beuren & Co. to do something it did not want to do, and recommended that a franchise be given to a competing firm because the firm of A. Van-Beuren & Co. could not be coerced. There you have it in a nut shell.

Our esteemed friend, Mr. Peter P. Steketee, of Muskegon, Mich., wrote up post haste the other day to stop sending him The Billboard. His subscription had just expired. He said that he had taken The Billboard for the billposting news it had contained, and that he would renew his subscription when it commenced to publish the news again. We couldn't help writing Peter to tell him that we were sorry our opinion as to what was news differed from his, but that we would have to continue along the present lines so long as there was anything doing. We also called Peter's attention to our premium brush proposition, and pointed out to him where he would save money by subscribing direct and getting a fine brush instead of buying getting a fine brush instead of buying The Billboard at the news stand at ten

Speaking about our premium brush Speaking about our premium brush proposition to biliposters, we can't resist saying that we have exhausted a one-gross order and made a big hole in a second gross of brushes during the past month. Its a cinch that our brushes have made a great hit with the biliposters. Couldn't help it—best brush Elder & Jenks makes.

MOORE IN AMERICA.

ohn, the "Globe Trotter," Pays a Flying Visit to His Old Stamping Ground and Shakes Hands with Billpester Friends En route— Has Established Great Business in London.

As previously announced by The Billboard, Mr. John Moore, fortuerly of America, but now widely known as the famous "globe trotting poster salesman" of London, landed on these hospitable shores on Saturday, Jan. 7, after an ineventful passage on the steamship Lucania from Liverpool, Eng. He was met at the pier by Mr. Thomas J. Murphy, of Brooklyn, Alex. Clark, of New York, and Mr. John W. Moore, a cousin and business man of Providence, R. L., our John's birthpiace. Later he was Joined at his hotel by his brother Charles A. Moore and W. B. Orcutt, of New York.

Remaining in New York over Sunday Mr. Memaining in New York over Sunday Mr. Moore was entertained by Mr. O. J. Gude and Mr. Thomas J. Murphy. Monday morning be continued his trip westward, stopping at Cleveland and Chicago and reaching Denver on Friay, Jan. 13. Here Mr. Moore found his mother in very poor health. It was feared for a time that she would live but a very few days. Join's presence seemed to revive her so that, sefore he was obliged to take up his return trip, the physicians said that she was greatly his roved and might live two or three years longer. With a promise to return in June for the bill posters convention John bade the good old mother an affectionate farewell and started eastward on January 24.

mosters convention John bade the good old mother an affectionate farewell and started eastward on January 24.

Stopping in St. Louis Mr. Moore called on Mr. Waiter Donaldson of the Great Western Printing Co., and P. J. McAliney of the St. Louis Billiposting Co. and then hurried on to Chicago. From this point he went to Mil waukee where Frank Fitzgerald helped himpass a day in a most pleasant way. Returning to Chicago John made a bee line for Chicinatt, where he arrived Thursday, Feb. 2.

Thus far along the route John had been most heartily welcomed by his old billiposter triends. Bryan at Cleveland, Campbell at Chicago and especially his old time friend, Jim Curran at benver, laid all business aside and gave uptheir time to John. But the surprise was awaiting him in Cincinnatt.

We of Cincinnatt have always been particularly interested in John Moore. Away back when he began to sell posters he handled the bonaldson line in and about Denver for Jim Curran, and when he first established himself permanently in London it was the sole agent for the Donaldson Lithograph Company's posters, ite has always been a more or less regular correspondent of The Billboard, so it was up to us to make his visit here a memorable one. The festivities began with an elaborate "Dutch Lonch" at the St. Nicholas cafe at noon Friday, given by The Billboard. Present at this little function were: Mr. W. M. Donaldson, Mr. Archie Donaldson, Mr. John P. Church, Mr. John Chapman, Mr. John P. Church, Mr. John Chapman, Mr. John P. Church, Mr. John Chapman, Mr. John P. Church, Mr. H. Lonaldson.

The menu card contained the following appreciative verse:

John Moore, he is a poster man Of very Great Renown; He happened first in Denver, But is now of "London Town."

John early gained the Soubriquet "Globe Trotter," which still clings By reason of his trottin' round The world and other things

Though England long has claimed him We Yankees can't forget That he first won his spurs with us; And hence we love him yet.

Of course John appreciated this little compliment all right, but when he turned to the menu we had him guessing. You know, if you have sat down for a few hours "talkee-talkee" with John that he is strong on "Coster" and can hand out enough Parisan French to keep off a drought. He has been about in Germany some ,but when we put him up against this he side-stepped:

"Oh, I say; that's bally good," John observed, as he scanned the list. "I can see schnapps on there all right, and Schweitzer Knese. I guess I'll make out." Just then the waiter brought along the schnapps and John got his; then he said, "'ere's the sime t' yow and many of thum."

But the lunch was really fine all the way down and the party thoroughly enjoyed themselves for nearly two hours, winding up the lunch with an attempt to smoke china Dutch pipes which were passed and became souvenirs of the occasion.

After the lunch the entire party visited the office of the John Chapman Company in Cheimati, then the Donaldson Lithograph Co's, plant and the office of The John F. Otting Billiposting Co. at Newport. Ky.

At various times Mr. Moore was entertained at the homes of Mr. William H. Donaldson, Mr. William M. Donaldson and Mr. John Hennegan, and several theatres were visited during ids stay.

An informal, but dainty wine dinner was given at the "Stag" by the Donaldson Lithograph Co., at which Mr. Archie M. Donaldson, secretary and general manager of that company presided. The others present besides the gnest, Mr. Moore, were W. H. Donaldson, secretary and general manager of that company presided. The others present besides the gnest, Mr. Moore, were W. H. Mr. Moore put in the greater part of Saturday inspecting the plant of the l'nited States Lithographic Company at Norwood, where ne was very contreously received by Mr. Albert de Monthuzia, the manager.

Sunday and Monday were spent in comparative quiet and in concluding certain business arrangements whereby Mr. Moore expects to extend his prestige in the poster field abroad, and at 9:45 Monday evening be left over the "Big Four" for Cleveland, Ohlo.

Mr. Moore expects to complete his engagements in America so as to leave Boston on the Cunard SS. Saxony February 14. He is in constant communication with his mother, however, and would

w. S. Burton & Co., of Richmond, Va., has obtained an injunction prohibiting the Southern Advertising Sign Co., of the same city, from interfering with its boards.

C. C. Roberts, of Bowling Green, Ohlo, wishes to sell his billposting business known as the American Company. It covers a number of good towns in the Ohlo oil fields. Mr. Roberts is going into other business.

Frank Maring, of Penn Yan, N. Y., has recently erected a number of large bill-boards and has them well covered with posters advertising Acorn Range, Neverslip Horseshoe, Gold Dust and Old Virginia Cheroots.

W. A. Kubat, the billposter at Owatonna, Minn., is having a lively time trying to install a plant in Austin, Minn. He has erected boards only to have them chopped down by the city authorities who want to keep him out. Mr. Kubat will fight to a finish.

S. S. Underwood, billposter and distributor at Pennyille, Ind., has just finished a distribution for Pernna and has an order from Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey on the way. He has just posted paper for Keith's Konquerer Shoe and is looking for a good line of business in the spring.

It is reported that Mr. E. C. Gude, treasurer of the 0. J. Gude Co., of New York City, has resigned and is now out of that concern. E. C. recently went to England, ostensibly in the interests of the company, the reasons for the change being made at this time have not been given out.

The Cunningham Biliposting Co., of Leavenworth. Kan., has built an iron board 150 feet long across from the court house that is considered the finest in the state. This firm employs men only in all departments. They are Frank Harrhson, Cliff Guy, William Delly and Frank Harrhson Harr

nen, Attenti

Why not build an attraction in your park that will draw the people, amuse them, and pay a handsome profit on your investment? Build a real HELTER SKELTER, not of sheet-iron or a rattan-trough affair, but an ornamental, fascinating amuse-ment devi-e—one of the "Let's do it again" kind. Our Helter Skelter is not to be compared with any other of its kind. It is in a class by itself. A well known Western Park man said of it, "I have visited the principal amusement parks of the country, and have paid particular attention to Helter Skelters, and had made up my mind that I did not want one in my park to but after seeing yours I want one, and one just like gours." A ride on our Helter Skelter is like flying; there is no exposure, and you arise from it just as you would from a chair. It is as smooth as glass, semi-crular in shape, and has the proper pitch and curves for a delightful ride. Over 800,000 people rode our Helter Skelter at the Chutes Park in Chicago last season without a scratch Build one in your park, operate it free afternoons for children, and watch your business grow. We can furnish you with complete plans and specifications, and supply you "ith an elegant one-sheet pictorial poster (copyrighteo) with any lettering you desire Write for sample posters and prices. We can furnish you with complete plans and specifications for the latest improved Figure 8 Toboggan Slide. These plans cover every detail, including cars, castings, etc., and are so plain that any intelligent mechanic can work to them. You can save from $3.500 to $4.000 in construction and have the safest, smoothest, and most fascinating slide ever constructed. We have the only complete plans in existence. Write for prices and names of parties who have used our plans. This company now owns and controls the patents on the Katzenjammer Castle, and has the sole right to build and license this amusement. The so-called Katzenjammer Castles operated upon the Bowery at Coney Island, the Pike at the World's Fair in St. Louis, Kansas City, and other south catled Katzenjammer Castles operated upon the Boy southern cities, have but one point of similarity, i. e be compared with a real Katzenjammer Castle than infringements of our patents will be vigorously prosing, building, and operating amusement devices, has supply any and everything needed in the Park line, railway ever constructed.
